product story idea

An oil and gas company could give away an item at a career fair that would help them stand out and get job seekers excited about their company. A great choice would be the SCX Design™ Jumbo Wireless Power Bank 10,000 mAh with its light-up logo that really draws attention. This handy item could be used right away by attendees to keep their devices powered up during the day and would likely be appreciated for its usefulness, helping to keep the company top of mind even after the event.
